The client: "Make it look exactly like this competitor."

So it matched the shape and borrowed nothing.

From the build page

- 9 sections matched to the reference
- 14 original images, generated to the palette
- Every colour in theme tokens, none hardcoded
- Partner logos invented on purpose, and flagged

Unpopular opinion.

A copied logo wall
is a legal risk,
not a shortcut.

The reference site's clients are not your client's to claim.

How often do clients ask you to "just copy" a site?

A. Every week

B. Every month

C. Rarely

D. Never

Tell us in the comments. Pick a letter.