

Four things WPOS did inside WordPress this week.

1. Hid in the admin menu. It is a plugin.

2. Built a site, then filed its own bug report.

3. Fixed five things from one message.

INDEPENDENT BOOKSELLERS • EST. 1998

Every good book begins
in the margins.

Twelve thousand carefully chosen titles, a reading room that stays open late, and booksellers who would genuinely rather talk about what you are reading than sell you anything.

Search by title, author, or mood... Search

- 12,400 titles on the floor
- Staff picks refreshed every Friday
- Free delivery on local orders over £30

4. Gave a freelancer one site, not all of them.

Which one should we film next?

1. The admin menu plugin

2. The bug report build

3. Five fixes, one message

4. One site per freelancer
